Brazil Produces Isabella Airmail

One of the best looking stamps from Brazil in a number of months is the 3.80Cr airmail pro-duced to mark the 500th anniver-sary of the Birth of Isabella the Catholic of Spain.

The queen is portrayed in a half length portrait in her royal gar-ments. Colors are light blue and dark blue.

According to Manoel F. da Motta of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, the new stamp printing press purchased from a Swiss firm will not begin printing stamps until late May at the earliest.

Added Values To Australian Series

Additions to the regular post-age series of Australia were made on March 20 with the release of two stamps in denominations of 1/0½d and 2/6d respectively. These were brought on by indenominations of eased postage fees.

King George VI in a medallion portrait appears on the 1/0½ dark gray, while for the 2/6 chocolate the "Aborigine" design, previous-ly used, appears.

The stamps come 120 to the sheet, are printed on watermarked paper and are perforated 14½.

Vatican Post Office Issues Provisional

According to Vittorio Lo Bianco of New York City Vatican City surcharged an existing stamp with a new value.

It is the 13 Lire denomination of the Basilicas set (Scott #126) in a green color which pictures the Basilica of the Holy Cross in Jerusalem. It has been revalued to 12L with a surcharge in red ink. to 12L with a surcharge in red ink.

German Stamp Catalogs Are Excellent Handbooks

Considering the generally exceptional quality of European philatelic catalogs, it is surprising how little they are known and appreciated in our good old U.S.A. Of course, this lack of appreciation is probably due to the problem presented by the so-called "language barrier", a barrier which however, is by no means so insurmountable as to preclude the use of German catalogs by those who know only the English language. Publisher Erich Haide of Balje ueber Stade, Germany, has, for instance, published the most practical and usable German-English philatelic dictionary that it has been our pleasure to see. pleasure to see.

Not only does it overcome the layman's chief difficulty in regard to translating the Germani language, that is, the Germanic practice of compounding two to a dozen words into one word only, but also this dictionary is unbelievably complete in regard to the lievably complete in regard to the philatelic terms included therein. Herr Haide has done a great service to English-speaking col-lectors in preparing such a dic-tionary. It is priced very moderately too.

Turning now to the subject of Turning now to the subject of catalogs, we may first say that in probably no other country in the world is there such a multitude of catalog publishers as in Germany. Their number is legion, yet all this competition apparently serves only to increase the quality of their products, as each publisher and compiler increases.

quality of their products, as each publisher and compiler increases his efforts to outdo the others. A comprehensive listing of German catalogs would include the following well known (in Germany, at least) works, a number of which are published annually: Michel, Kricheldorf, Senf, Hindrichs, Borek Wrong-Goeks, Mulrichs, Borek, Wrona-Goecks, Muller, Oetken-Hahle, Kurzl, Ascher-Junker (which is the chief compilation of German postal station-ery) and Beckhaus.

Probably the best known and most used German catalogs are those published under the names of Michel Senf, and Kricheldorf. Michel publishes three works: (1) a highly-specialized catalog devoted entirely to German postal Kricheldorf offers more detailed information than either Michel or Senf, as a whole, although his catalog does not by any means contain everything available in either Michel or in Senf. with the Scott catalog, which is a catalog well known and liked by most U. S. collectors. One of the most-appreciated qualities of the better German catalogs, including Michel, Kricheldorf and Senf, is the fact that they usually include not only the year of issue but also the month and day on which the respective stamps were released. If, as in case of many of Ger-

It is indeed a land of history and a focal point in two World Wars, from whose ashes the dove of peace may fly the world. The dove of peace may well find its haven through the fraternity of the stamp collectors throughout the

A very literate nation, one finds rarely a household in that country, in which stamps as a collecting activity has not had its home. Germany literally is a nation of stamp collectors, and the very interest of these collectors in all kinds of stamps has eagerly led them to exchange and correspondence with stamp collectors all

The American collectors have been quick to recognize the historical interest in the stamps of Germany, and have enjoyed the opportunity of being able to obtain these first hand, directly from the collectors in Germany. Then, too, the heavy immigration of Germans to this country, has been bound to bring along the collecting interest, too, and this enthusiastic interest was quickly transmitted to other races as well. So there has been a long-felt has been of little help to the average American collector.

Thus from this need, the formation of THE GERMANY PHILATELIC SOCIETY was brought about. On July 18, 1949 this Society had its inception in Rochester, New York.

The purpose of the Society is in the main, three-fold. First to offer collectors a Society of their own. That is, a Society where the interest of the member is served first and foremost. Secondserved first and foremost. Second-ly to offer the membership a Bulletin where articles both for the specialist and general collec-tor would be published at regular the specialist and general collector would be published at regular intervals. Through the means offered by such a Bulletin, articles of lasting interest and value, written by well known specialists of German postal history, German states and Colonies, would become available. This would, of course, include translations and publications of many scarce and noteworthy articles and books published in Europe.

German postal history may be traced back to 1460. In that year a Count Roger of Thurn and Taxis, a principality, organized the first service for carrying private messages between various points in Germany. Austria, and their southern neighbors. This monopoly was in existence for more than 350 years.

Adhesive labels were first issued in 1852 and were used until were also stamp issuing countries prior to the German Empire. The early stamps from these areas hold a strong appeal to many German collectors, who specialize in this particular phase of German philately.

The first postmaster general of the German Empire was Dr. Heinrich von Stephan, then forty years old, who was destined to make postal history. Born in Stolp on January 7, 1831 he entered postal service at the age of seventeen. Becoming a master of European languages, he did considerable studying in the field

But he is best remembered for his far-sighted vision in promoting the founding of what today is known as the Universal Postal Union, and he presided at its first conference held in Berne, Switzerland in 1874. Fifty years later, in 1924, Germany honored this great man on a set of commemorative stamps, and again followed suit on the 75th aniversary of the U.P.U., in 1949.

The period of postal issues under German Empire ended when Germany became a Republic following World War I, in 1919. It is perhaps of interest to note that under the German Empire, no stamps was issued with a face value in excess of five marks, equivalent at the old standard to about $1.10 in American currency. With the exception of the first three sets, issued from 1872 to 1877, the rest of the Empire issues are in reach of the collector of very modest means.

In 1921 we see a shaken Germany, with Communist interference, Socialist forces, and various other factions struggling through chaos and revolutions to undermine, what was at best, a very shaky government. This brought on an economic crisis, followed by the whirlpool of inflation, and (Continued on page 11)

Philatelic Germany Passing In Review

by Major Herman Halle

It is a well known fact that a country gains in philatelic interest when it is "in the news". This perhaps explains the popularity of German issues with the American collector. Add to this, well-executed stamps with a beautiful design and which tell a story, and you have a sound combiniation. It cannot be denied that since the founding of the German Reich it has been in the news. In 1872 the first German issue was placed on sale. It marked the beginning of the first Reich. It prospered under its Monarch Kaiser Wilhelm II until the defeat in World War I forced the Kaiser to take refuge in Holland.

With the revolution of 1919 the

With the revolution of 1919 the second Reich came into being and the federation of republics form-ed the new German Reich. Philaed the new German Reich. Philatelically speaking this era was ushered in by a special issue for the National assembly at Weimar. Reparations, unemployment, the effects of the war, lack of production and raw materials and other factors played havoc with the economy and the Mark soon was a currency without value. was a currency without value-

Under its then ruling Kaiser Wilhelm I (1871-1888) the German Wilhelm I (1871-1888) the German Empire on July 1, 1875 joined the world postal union. With the introduction of a new unified currency Pfennige and Mark (100 Pfennige—I Mark) new stamps were placed on sale. This new valuation was considered sound until signs in 1922 indicated a coming devaluation.

No one however foresaw the tremendous devaluation which was to follow only a year later. For us philatelists it is quite interesting to trace this bankruptcy tracing the prevailing postal

Let's check the rates for a local postcard and a regular letter. On August 1st 1916 the rate for a local post card was 7½ Pfg. and an out of town letter called for 15Pfg. By January 1, 1922 the postcard rate had jumped to 75Pfg. with the letter rate now calling for 2 Marks postage. This inflationary tendency was not to stop until it reached a peak postage rate of 16,000,000,000 Marks for a local postcard and 80,000,000,000 for an out of town letter. Let's check the rates for a local for a local postcard and 80,000,-000,000 for an out of town letter. The registration fee had jumped from 20 Pfg. in August 1916 to 80,000,000,000 Marks on Novem-

The new currency was called Reichsmark (100 Pfennig— thing on these stamps remaining CHIT-

On January 30, 1933 the period ARTHUR FENDLER of the ill-famed Third Reich started. It did not take the master of propaganda Dr. Goebbels long to see the propaganda value of stamps. In addition he fully realized that collectors were a funny lot and were willing to pay good money to acquire these little bits of paper. What did it matter that a stamp with only a matter that a stamp with only a franking value of 42Pfg, carried a surtax of 1.08 Marks. Wasn't the total of 1.50 Mk. a nice round

Under the guise of Winterhelp,
Brown Band horse races, Blue

Olympic game fund and other reasons ,collectors were provided with the most beautiful pieces of The most beautiful pieces of paper an artist could design. There is no doubt that some of these stamps are masterpieces of these stamps and printing. Their eye-appeal has the right appeal to catch collectors.

The motives were interesting and told a story. The exponents of the master race cleverly conveyed messages to their own people by means of postal papers, people by means of postal papers, at the same time also telling the world of their achievements.

Scenes from Wagner's operas tell of the greatness of this composer; Bach, Haendel, Schuetz, Mozart to name a few others are also honored. Inventors such as Daimler, Benz, Guericke, colonial pioneers such as Luederitz. Nachpioneers such as Luederitz, Nach-tigal, Peters and Wissman, tech-nical achievements in the automotive field and in railroading, scientists such as bacteriologists Behring and Koch round out a cultural message.

But by no means has the political picture been overlooked. Every year a likepeer of Hitler in ery year a likeness of Hitler is shown to remind the German peo-ple of their "great" Fuehrer. The racial doctrine is documented by an issue showing expectant mothers, a public nurse and mother, and child clinic. A labor corpsman and girl come in for their share of glory. In two extensive issues the Wehrmacht was glorified and idelized idolized.

Thus a showing of the stamps from 1933 to 1945 is a miniature presentation of Nazi aims, theories, institutions and political aspirations. With the unconditional surrender on May 8, 1945 the Nazi dream and the boast of a is perhaps best illustrated by the comparative franking requirement during this same period for a letter sent to a foreign country. Such a letter would have demanded 20 Pfg. postage in the inflation 325,000,000,000 Marks were necessary to mail a simple for the inflation of the prohibited the use of one of the Nazi regime was blocked out

Getting The News

Getting the news is the big problem of any stamp paper. You should realize that in the Philatelic Field we do not have a Press Association although I have often believed that we should have one, and that it should be a function of The American Stamp Dealers Association, for what group could have more reason to spread publicity about stamps than the stamp dealers who have them for sale Perhaps some day they will

them for sale. Perhaps some day they will awaken to the possibilities of a real means of promoting interest in stamps and anything of interest about stamps is grist for such a mill.

When we reported on the sale of the 10c 1847 Valentine cover sold at a recent Barr sale and the property of Mrs. Henry A. Diamant we had the facts just about correct but through a misunderstanding we named the wrong party as the buyer. We had a correction on this as our papers were going into the mail but that was too late and immediately following that we had other news concerning this cover that should be printed to make the record correct.

correct. We are printing statements here from three sources, the first two disagree in three sources, the first two disagree in one small respect but perhaps also due to some misunderstanding but let us see what they say. First is a statement from the man who found the cover, Mr. Earl C. Planty, now Executive Counselor with Johnson & Johnson of Elizabeth, N. J. Mr. Planty writes. . . "In 1942 my sister, then in high school, urged me to go with her to search through an abandoned house for stamps. We were living at West Potsdam, where my mother now resides. We found nothing at all until we came to the attic. There we discovered an old trunk and were disappointed to find on opening it that it contained in its upper till only old rusty hardware—bolts, nuts, knives, nails, etc.—badly rusted. I wrestled out the till and found old Civil War Memorabilia—badly moth eaten: a uniform, a flag, a soldier's hat, a bayonet, etc. Taking this apart piece by piece revealed nothing of value to a collector. We had about given up the search when I removed a thick layer of newspapers from the bottom of the trunk. At the very bottom lay the cover—no other covers or stamps.

moved a thick layer of newspapers from the bottom of the trunk. At the very bottom lay the cover—no other covers or stamps.

"I kept the cover for a year. Sent it to F.D.R. for an offer (I could perhaps find his reply)... who said he rarely bought stamps and added that Valentines were not a primary interest. About 1933 I sold it to Rome Worden of Ilion, New York, for $40. My sister and I divided the cash and Mr. Worden got for it, so he told me, $50. I was teaching in Ilion at the time and needed the $20. The only thing I regret is that I did not give it to the President outright."

Thus we have the story of the original find. Next comes a letter from a well known New York State stamp dealer who requests that we do not mention his name, but his story is just as interesting without the name.

without the name.

"The Valentine was not bought by VanDyck MacBride but by Harry Keffer of New Haven, Connecticut.

"You might possibly be interested in the following history of

"Back in 1930 during the depression this valentine was found in upstate New York. After considerable negotiation and because the cover was described to me as "a very large cover" and I was not too much interested. The cover was finally sent to me and I bought it for about fifty or sixty dollars. I cannot remember the exact price. Whatever it was, it was the price asked by the owner who was a stamp collector.

price. Whatever it was, it was the price asked by the owner who was a stamp collector.

"Some time after that, after more negotiations because of its size, I finally sold it to an old time stamp collector whose name was William S. White, then living in Englewood, New Jersey, for $200.00.

"He was always considerably disturbed about this purchase from me and thought he had paid too much money. However after a few years his health failed rather rapidly so his stamps were placed on the market and this valentine was sold at public auction by the late Percy C. Doane. This cover at that time caused as much excitement as it did in the recent Barr sale and there were a number of people who tried to buy it and Mrs. Diamant became the purchaser, after spirited competition at $310.00, which was quite a price in those days."

It is evident from the above account that this dealer did not buy the valentine cover from the finder but from Mr. Worden of Ilion. With this exception the records seem to agree.

Now for another letter which comes from a collector who likes U.S. Locals. This man referred to our mention of the Frazer local on the large Valentine cover which we had sold Mr. Schenck about 25 years ago. The present owner bought it from George Sloane who had got it from Harmer Rooke & Company after the death of Mr. Schenck. The owner states that with the covers there are clippings and papers which refer to my sale to Schenck and that the price of $350.00 is noted. Just what the cover has sold for recently we do not know, but the present owner offers it to us believing we we do not know, but the present owner offers it to us believing we collect Valentine covers. We are not interested in such but do believe as we stated before that the cover is equal to or as desirable as the 1847 cover.

To get this story complete we refer you to our Editorial of the issue of February 18 and March 10. We have nothing to say regarding those two stories on this group of stamps but are now wondering as to the truth of what we have had from different sources.

We need only quote from this letter and you can come to your own conclusion as regards the validity of the stamps in question

Eight Bavaria No. 1 In Stolow Auction

Exceptionally fine stamps from three estates have been combined with other unusually fine 19th and 20th century stamps in an important auction to be held by J. & H. Stolow the first week of April.

Among the choice items in the sale are to be found a matched set of very small registered covers, each bearing one of five high values of the Columbian issue, a highly specialized collection of the rare German Occupation of Libau stamps of the first World War, and a very fine set of the French Ile de France airmails;

Among the German classics

Among the German classics are eight copies of Bavaria #1, including a superb sheet margin copy, and a double impression single. There is also a superb pair of Bavaria #46, a very fine copy of Bergdorf #3 tied on cover, Brunswick #2 with full original gum, and two copies of Brunswick #3.

Twentieth century foreign is included in similar choice condition with, for example, the British Empire sets between the two wars almost complete in very fine mint condition.

At the end of the sale, there is a large group of more than 450 U.S. and Foreign collections U.S. and Foreign collections which have been left intact by country. These individually range in catalog value from about $30 to $2,500.

The 108 page fully illustrated catalog of this unreserved public auction is available without charge from the J. & H. Stolow, Auction Department, 50 West 46th Street, New York 19, New York

By CARL P. RUETH

When the Grand Coulee Dam stamp was announced in the fore part of this year for issuance some time in May, I had hopes that here would be another which might fall on my birthday. So I sat quiet like a mouse to see what the Post Office Department would do for a first day date.

Sadly, they failed me, and I thereby lose another possible item for a birthday collection. And it might interest you to know that it encompasses all nations of the world.

May has been one of the popular months as far as first days of issue are concerned. On the basis of individual commems, and not sets, I would judge that it has seen more activity of that nature than any other month.

ture than any other month.

The United States has supplied me with one birthday item and that was the Steamship Stamp of 1944.

1. Two of the 1950 commems pictured steamships. Know which ones?

2. What steamship was pictured on the 1944 commem and what commemoration?

All of you probably know by this time, or should, that the 10% charge on the purchase of 50 or more postal cards has been rescinded. Now you can purchase them at their straight face value in any quantity.

in any quantity.

The "change for the better" became effective on March 22.

On August 30, 1934, the Post Office Department relased a 16c blue airmail special delivery stamp at Chicago, Ill., which was to contain in one stamp the airmail fee and the special delivery

According to the Department after about a year and a half trial, the single blue color was not distinctive enough to cause a clerk to recognize the mail to which it was attached as a "hurry-up" item, so "steps were taken"

This consisted of printing this same design in two colors, the frame in red, and the central design, a reproduction of the great seal of the United States, in blue. Printing required two passes of each sheet through the flat press, one for each color.

Like with nearly all the bicolors registry was not always perfect and the central design of the 16-center is found slightly off its normal presition. The stand off its normal position. The stamp shown herewith is one of the most notable "skids" I have ever seen and makes a nice curiosity.

It is the property of Erwin C Nielsen of Milwaukee, Wis.

For some reason or another the 16c AMSD stamps were never popular, and hence never widely used. Why this stamp is not one of the modern high priced ones (the blue one, that is) is a story unto itself. unto itself.

There were only 9,215,750 printed, and I'd say that at least 8,500,000 were used for postage. Today, 18 years later, full sheets of it still bring but little more than face.

Wonder if it will be like the Columbians which took years and years to really amount to anything.

The Transit Postmark is published monthly by a duplicating method carrying all news of vehicular carrying of the mails.

By their purchase of Federal "duck stamps," hunters of wild ducks and geese have contributed nearly $27 million to help underwrite a national waterfowl restoration program which the Federal Government has been carrying on since 1934, according to Secretary of the Interior Osto Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman.

During the 17-year period from July 1, 1934, when the duck stamp requirement became effective, through June 30, 1951, the sum of $26,909,141 has been turned over to the Fish and Wild-life Service by the Treasury De-partment as receipts from duck stamp sales.

The Federal duck stamp is required of all waterfowl hunters over 16. It now sells for $2. Issues prior to 1949-50 sold for $1. Money received from the sale of these stamps is used by the Service to help finance its waterfowl ice to help finance its waterfowl ice to help finance its waterfowl program.

The report shows that as of June 30, 1951, the Service has expended $21,626,072 out of the total receipts, as follows: $358,809 to the Post Office Department for printing and issuing the stamps; $2,038,551 for law enforcement; $4,006,420 for land acquisition activities; $13,598,488 for development, management and administration of the refuges, and stration of the refuges. $1,623,803 for waterfowl investi-

As originally passed on March 16, 1934, the Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act provided that 90 per cent of the money realized from the sale of the stamps was to be used by the Fish and Wildlife Service to supplement other funds for the purchase and maintenance of waterfowl refuges throughout the country. The remaining 10 per cent was to be maining 10 per cent was to be used for the printing and distribution of the stamps and for the enforcement of all Federal laws which protect migratory waterfowl.

Two amendments to the Act in recent years have changed both the cost of the stamp and the original 90-10 division of the funds. In August 1949 the price was raised to $2 to offset rising costs encountered by the Service in its efforts to expand its watercosts encountered by the Service in its efforts to expand its water-fowl conservation work. In October 1951, in response to demands for a stepped-up law enforcement program, Congress authorized an increase in expenditure of duck stamp funds for enforcement and administration from 10 per cent to 15 per cent of the annual receipts. nual receipts.

At that time there will be a presentation of an award to Marian Pratt for her winning entry in the club's recent exhibition.

Dealer Doings

Now in new and more spacious quarters is Ernest Finley at 141-09 28th Ave., Flushing 54, N. Y. His move to suburban Flushing makes it possible for him to enjoy better living and at the same time to expand his operations which was not too possible in crowded Manhattan. Mr. Finley carries a substantial stock of stamps of the entire world.

There are several interesting articles to be found in the #9 edition of Ohlman's Philatelic Services, a house organ produced and edited by M. Ohlman, 116 Nassau St., New York 38, N. Y. Besides the information there are a number of advertisements of dealers in many fields with stamp offers. A copy is sent on the re-ceipt of a three cent stamp.

A comprehensive listing of the stamps of Germany is contained in the most recent edition of Gimbels Stamp News, produced by Gimbels Stamp Department, 33rd St. & Broadway, New York, N. Y. Many of them are pictured. Also to be found are listings of stamps of Switzerland, Saar, Danzig and Liechtenstein. Send a 3c stamp for a copy to the above address.

Cancellation Fascination

by Vernon McKenzie

Usually, I don't pay much attention to stamps, covers and cancellations unless they are of German origin, or from areas occupied by Germany in World War I or World War II. But the other day I got a Canadian precancel cover and after the first look, took a second look I got a Can second look.

The cancellation showed a diminutive red ink figure on skis, with the text reading: "Recreation Pays Dividends." Then I took a look at the sender's address in the upper left-hand corner. This letter had been sent out by: The Government of Canada, District Treasury Office, Department of National Health and Welfare, Family Allowances. It had enclosed a check, for a family with several children!

I am told that in Canada this has become a collector's item.

On the grim side, I have in front of me a parcel receipt card, with Polish General Gouvernment Polish General Gouvernment stamps, and the postmark of an especially infamous concentration camp. A handstamp indicates that the parcel could not be de-livered. The body of the intended recipient had probably been consigned to a gas oven.

recipient had probably been consigned to a gas oven.

These are just average items which a collector of stamps and covers may come across. Many covers (especially) may serve as footnotes to history. I am sure that I have, in my 2,000 or so covers, cancellations about which I have not yet learned the real or complete story. In addition to the conventional cancellation on the stamp, many covers and cards carry—epecially in Europe—slogans, often of a vigorous propaganda nature. For some months I have had a dozen Russian fieldpost (army) postcards. Just recently a Russian-speaking American student translated these for me.

One card was mailed by Soviet soldier Kubanov, from Kagalnitskaia Ros, dated July 16, 1942. There is no stamp, as stamps for soldiers in a combat area were not necessary. The message is a simple soldier's one, and says little more than that he is well, and thinks often how much he'd like to be home with his comrade to be home with his comrade Vassily Chugriev. But the slogan is what—after translation—caught is what—after translation—caught my attention. Under a crude picture is the caption: "Long live the People's Avengers, the Cour-ageous Partisans!" Then, in up-per right corner where a stamp would be on a commercial card, there is the line: "Death to Ger-man Occupation!" Perhaps it is because modern

Perhaps it is because modern Germany is my special field of interest—and because of my lack of knowledge of other philatelic areas—that I believe Germany has used more in the way of political propaganda slogans and cancellations than any other country (with the possible exception of the USSR).

Philatelic propaganda was used moderately in pre-Hitler Ger-many, but after the Fuehrer came to power January 30, 1933, it was used in literally thousands of instances. Today, and since the latter part of 1945, the Communists in East Germany are continuing what Hitler and Goebbels become in an employer to turn East. ists in East Germany are continuing what Hitler and Goebbels began, in an endeavor to turn East American colonies, Sam Adams made practical propaganda use of anniversaries. He and his fellow activists never failed, for years after the event, to celebrate the occasion of the Boston Tea Party.

Party.
Also, there was the "Boston Massacre" of September 5, 1770.
Adams let no one forget this in the years after, and had anniversary celebrations for the "Bloody Work in King's Street." But Sam had no stamps, and no doubt very few, if any, cancellation handstamps. stamps.

Hitler and Goebbels had access to every conceivable device of modern communications. Anniversaries of special import to the Nazi Party were consistently celebrated, by radio, newspapers, posters, parades—and stamps and cancellations. The earliest "sac-Nazi event was the abortive Putsch of November 9, 1923. Take a look at Scott 467 and 468, and read the line at the top: "Gedenke des 9 November, 1923." Cancella-tions also carried this line. Then, just to mention one other set, take a look at the date on Scott B116 and B117: "30 January." That was the day in 1933 when Hitler became chancellor.

From the Olympic sheet issue of 1936 on, each year a stamp and a special cancellation—often many varieties in one year—appeared to note Hitler's birthday. The last appeared in 1944, Scott B271. In 1945, on April 20, neither Hitler nor Germany was in any shape to bother about a birthday stamp. On that birthday Hitler stamp. On that birthday Hitler and Goebbels were both under-ground, in the de luxe bomb shelter of the Berlin chancellory gar-dens, and both were dead ten days later.

I shall mention just two of the Plan and other actions of the western democracies.

I shall mention just three other cancellations of the Nazi period. Each year, from 1933 to 1938 (it was called off at the last moment in 1939) the annual Nazi rally was held in Nuremberg. Millions of postcards were issued, showing Hitler and his marching SA troops. This picture usually took up the left half of the front of the postcard. The card in 1936 had an imprint of the type of Scott B102. The common cancellation had Nurnberg at the top, an eagle and swastika in center, and at the bottom: "Reichsparteitag der NSDAP." Put into English, the five initials stand for: "National Socialist German Workers' Party." (See illustration above ton left item). illustration Party above, top left item).

During the war many vigorous propaganda cancellations appearpropaganda cancellations appeared, to malign the Allies and to stimulate the Germans. One, shown with this article, appears partly covering Scott B236. Apart from Berlin, and the date, it reads in translation): "Our Leader Bans Bolshevism."

It would be possible to write about several hundred more, if I had the knowledge, and Linn's had the knowledge, and Linn's had the space. But I want to pay some attention to post-war German cancellations and slopans. I have a list in front of me showing more than 1,000 varieties which have been used in Germany since V-E Day. I shall select half a dozen or so of these, and most of the examples will be from the East Zone, as that Communist-

An "L" Of A Mystery Solved

Or perhaps we should say the "Mystery of an L Solved." Any-Or perhaps we should say the "Mystery of an L Solved." Anyhow in our issue of January 14 we printed a picture of a block of four 1½c United Nations stamps which showed a very distinct letter "L" laying on its back at the base of the big UN building as shown on the stamps. At that time we had no explanation for this freak but it has caused some of our readers to watch for such a variety and now Steve Stiling of Escanaba, Michigan comes up with the correct answer.

a variety and now Steve Stiling of Escanaba, Michigan comes up with the correct answer.

Above, is an illustration of the original stamp with the freak "L" at the base of the building. At the left is a pair of the 1½c UN stamps with lower margin. This is mounted on black paper so that the letter "L" in the lower margin shows up as a black "L". This "L" however is punched out of the paper and thus leaves a hole in that shape. The answer is that the "L" is punched out before the stamps are printed, and stuck to the sheet of paper. When the sheet was printed the "L" stuck to the ink on the plate and left the white spot as shown at the bottom of the building. It is therefore most probable that the stamp from which the original picture was printed is a unique piece that will never be duplicated again except possibly from the same reason. This is indeed cooperation on the part of our reader, Mr. Stiling, in running down this mystery.

Now It's Official! Ditch Divvy On Cards

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson anonunced that the ten per cent additional charge on 2c postal cards when bought in lots of 50 or more has been rescinded.

Mr. Donaldson said that postmasters throughout the nation have been instructed that on or after March 22 all postal cards will be sold at face value regardless of quantity of purchase.

The Postmaster General explained that this action comes as a result of Public Law 279, approved March 12, 1952, which rescinds the provision of Public Law 233, that required the collection of a ten per cent additional charge on two-cent postal cards sold in lots of 50 or more.

CHAPTER XXV

The finds of Defense errors at Peoria, Ill., and Norwich, Conn. have many points in common. Approximately the same number of 3c errors were found in each post office, they were discovered about the same time in the summer of 1942, and in each case it was a comparatively new collector who made the major find and thus experienced his philatelic "thrill of a lifetime."

In Peoria, Ill., William A, Hutchens, a machinist by trade, had been collecting stamps five years when he read about the Defense errors being found at various post offices. He saw the stories in who recorded with a California precancel man, Arthur GG, Lilienthal of San Francisco, who recorded as mall find of 3c who recorded as mall find of 3c.

offices. He saw the stories in Linn's Weekly and soon after being alerted he went to the Peoria main post office to buy some stamp supplies for a friend who operated a drug store. in Hutchens asked the stamp clerk whether he had seen "any imperforate pairs "among the Defense sheets. The clerk had just opened a new pad of 3c sheets that morning and he said: "Here, take a look for yourself." On the fourth sheet down from the top, Hutchens found a completely imperforate pair and in the remain-der of the sheets, there was 'a sepair or a true block every three or four sheets!

plate numbers:—22388, 22691, and 22794. He corresponded with a California precancel man, Arthur G. Lilienthal of San Francisco, who reported a small find of 3c errors with plate number 22693. Several other collectors shared in the Peoria treasure. Hutchens was fortunate enough to pick up a rare upper right corner pair in one of his visits to the post office. He later traded this to a collector, who was trying to complete a miniature "sheet" of the 3c errors, and he gave Hutchens a 3c block for the pair. The Peoria find totaled approximately 150 pairs and 50 blocks of the 3c value. 22794. He corresponded with a California precancel man, Arthur G. Lilienthal of San Francisco, who reported a small find of 3c errors with plate number 22693. Several other collectors shared in the Peoria treasure. Hutchens was fortunate enough to pick up a rare upper right corner pair in one of his visits to the post office. He later traded this to a collector, who was trying to complete a miniature "sheet" of the 3c errors, and he gave Hutchens a 3c block for the pair. The Peoria find totaled approximately 150 pairs and 50 blocks of the 3c errors found at Norwich, 2 land at one time Riley owned 50 value.

In Norwich, Conn., Joseph A. Riley was manager of an auto accessory store. He has lived all of his life in that city and started to collect stamps in 1941. He tells the story of his "find" as follows: "One day I bought a supply of stamps for the store at the post office. When I got back I tried to collect stamps for the store at the post office. When I got back I tried to the first warm of the store at the post office exhausted its supply of the 3c sheets and no more were received there. I also no-ticed that during the third week, toward the end, the number of errors dropped off each day."

Altogether, it is estimated there were 200 pairs and 55 blocks of the 3c errors found at Norwich, and at one time Riley owned 50 pairs and 40 blocks, plus scads of the minor varieties. All of the Norwich, Conn., where stripped out of the sheets. No complete stamps for the store at the post office. When I got back I tried to George E, McCabe, of use some of the 3c stamps and discovered that they did not tear apart very good. I then noticed apart very good. I then noticed that some of the stamps were not perforated and I called in a memperforated and I called in a member of my family who knew more about stamps than I did at that time. He told me that I had found an error. Naturally, I was quite excited. I did not know what an imperforate pair looked like before that day."

like before that day."

Riley went back to the post office at once and drew aside the stamp clerk. He showed him the 3c Defense pair and together they checked over the other stock at the window. They turned up a few more errors. From that time on, as long as the 3c Defense stamps were on sale, the clerk saved out strips of 20 stamps, either from the left side of the sheet or the right side, showing to various dealers including Murray Simnock, New York, and H. E. Harris, Boston.

On March 5, 1943, he sold six blocks of four and four pairs of the 3c errors to H. E. Harris for $28.50 and applied that amount on the purchase of a set of the Graf Zepp singles mint that he had always wanted. Riley also was very kind in trading and selling some of his minor varieties to the writer for his specialized collection.
Post offices scattered throughout Connecticut probably had ized collection.

Post offices scattered throughout Connecticut probably had more of the 3c errors than any other state in the nation but it looks very much like the full story of the errors in Connecticut will never be told. For the most part, the dealers who cornered the errors worked with individuals at the post office and for that reason the information has not been forthcoming.

Huge finds of 3c errors were made at Bridgeport and Hartford, Conn. Smaller finds were reported at New Haven and Torrington, Conn. Harry Keffer, of the New Haven Collector's Shop, and Andrew Peterson, of the W. C. Phillips Co., were prominent in the big finds. Still another large find of the 3c errors was in Providence, Rhode Island.

Ira J. Sonurublick, of Hartford, bought 84 sheets of the 3c Defense, each with an imperf pair or block, from the Torrington, Conn., post office in 1952. He also found some 3c errors at Winsted, Conn. Wrote he: "I tore them all out of the sheets and sold them for $1.75 per pair to OTHERS GOING Because of ever increasing costs and excessively high prices we are going to discontinue the greater part of our line of Philatelic Products. We have been contemplating this move for the past year or more for various reasons, among which are the ever soaring prices on merchandise of this character. Prices that have become so high that we almost feel ashamed of having to ask such prices for material. Also we feel that we can best devote our entire energies to the production and promotion of Linn's Weekly Stamp News which has grown to be considered by many as the leading American Philatelic Publication.

ALL OTHER ITEMS TO BE DISCONTINUED

All other items as listed below will be discontinued when present stock is sold. Much of this material is very desirable and at the new sacrifice prices we suggest that any who need pages or supplies will order as much as they can use at once. The cat prices on many of the items are for less than we can replenish our stock. Prices have advanced on some items to the point where if we should continue them we would have to advance the price to a much higher figure than heretofore, so we are closing out at prices lower than we could buy for again. # POSTAGE STAMP PARADE

LEONARD EPSTEIN 22 Beaver St., New York 4. N. Y.

AUSTRIA — Two commemoratives and one semipostal have been announced, according to Edwin Mueller. One commemorative honors Dr. Karl Ritter von Ghega, Austrian railroad engineer who built the famous Semmering mountain railroad connecting mountain railroad connecting lower Austria with Styria. The other, a 1.50S. value, honors Josef Schrammel, composer, The semi-postal stamp is a belated tribute to the Day of the Stamp observed last December; the surtax being used to propagandize Austrian philately.

The design shows a cherubic "Amor" as a mail carrier, running above the globe. A total of 300,000 copies of this stamp in sheets of fifty was released March 5 and became valid for postage March 10

BELGIUM-Joseph Ernest Van
Roman Catholic Roey, Belgium's Roman Catholic primate, consecrating the Basilica of Sacre-Couer at Kokelberg, is of Sacre-Couer at Kokelberg, is shown on an 8fr, plus 4fr, gray violet stamp, according to Kent B. Stiles. Other values are: 1.75fr. plus 25c., and 4fr. plus 2fr.

DENMARK—A rescue scene will feature the 25 ore, red, Sea Rescue Institution stamp, to be issued March 26, according to Thorsten Ingeloff.

SWEDEN—This country's pre-

Thorsten Ingeloff.

SWEDEN—This country's preference for coils and booklets has been clearly manifest in quantities of the King Gustaf type stamps, made available through Thorsten Ingeloff. In the case of the 5 ore value, for example, there were 415,196,700 copies perforated on two sides, 116,337,000 perforated on three sides and only 32,130,000 perforated on all four 32,130,000 perforated on all four sides.

This proportion held true for most other values in the series where comparison was possible, but most—in the higher denominations—were prepared for coil use only.

It is noted that the Olavus Petri It is noted that the Olavus Petri stamps, due April 19, will comprise 25 ore, gray, in coils and booklets and 140 ore, dark green, for coils only. The design will represent a preacher, from a woodcut in Olavus Petri's own prayer book from the early part of 1500.

Specialized Czech Material At Auction

JAMES KNOX POLK 11th President

Born in Mecklenburg County, N. C. 1795—died in 1849. Educated in law, he was admitted to the bar in 1820—practiced briefly in Tennessee, then drifted into politics. He was elected as a member of the House of Representatives 1825—speaker of the House 1835-39—governor of Tennessee 1839-41.

He was elected President of the nessee 1839-41.

He was elected President of the U. S. in 1844 on the issue of the annexation of Texas and Oregon. Both England and the United States claimed Oregon, which was essential to Canada as a Pacific seaboard—but war over the matter was avoided eventually by mutual agreement, and the Oregon territory was joined to the Union.

California was also joined during Polk's term of office, making a total of 1,200,000 square miles of land added to our side of the fence during that little man's administration—thereby completing our continental expansion here at home. Not bad. He was elected President of the

And it was during President
Polk's administration that our

Fork's administration that our first two postage stamps were is-sued—remember them, the 5c Franklin and the 10c Washington? They were first sold at the Old North post office in New York City on July 1, 1847. How would City on July 1, 1847. How would you like a mint block of either of these two stamps in your albums today? use of philatelic propaganda. The first two examples, however, will be from Western Germany. One shows the regular cancellations used much of the time during the famous airlift of 1948 and 1949. The German term was: Airbridge, or Luftbrucke. In connection with the date cancellation, there was an oblong which showed four planes. oblong which showed four planes, with text: "Luftbrucke—Berlin." Another common airlift cancellation is also an oblong, with a broken circle in the center. In-side an inner circle is the German side an inner circle is the German bear, surrounded by a broken chain. One plane is shown fly-ing through the breaks, and the text reads: (in translation) "Buy from Blockaded Berlin." (See il-

Other cancellations include:
Advocancy of the Two-Year Plan for East Germany, and a picture of two clean-cut youngsters, a boy and a girl, with text: "FDJ. 3. Parliament der Jugend." The initials stand for the Communistbacked organization, Free German Youth and the correlation in Youth, and the cancellation is propaganda to play up the Third Parliament of Youth.

Another has on the cover the stamp which ballyhooed a related event—Scott 10N47—with imprint in block the related to the stamp with the stamp with the related to the stamp with the stamp event—Scott 10N47—with im-print in black over the red stamp: "3. Deutscher Volkskon-gress—29-30 Mai 1949." The canricellation is dated May 15, 1949—10, and the text urges all to vote "Ja" on the 15th. and 16th of May, for Peace. (See illustraten page 6, bottom left item).

Then comes a cover with an outsize red stamp, on which is depicted Stalin, with Wilhelm Pieck, president of the "German Democratic Republic"—that, as you might guess, is the Soviet-dominated East Zone. Both stamp and cancellation inform the world that they are celebrating the "Month of German-Soviet Friendship,"—under date of December 1, 1951. (See illustration page 6, bottom right item). bottom right item).

Just mention of one more and this, which is an East Zone-West Zone combination, is one of my favorites. It is a postcard, with a 10pf. imprinted stamp of Wilhelm Pieck, Scott type OS9. The upper left corner helps to make up a conventional picture postcard, and shows the famous Brandenburg Gate in Berlin. The card card, and shows the famous Brandenburg Gate in Berlin. The card comes from a young man in the East Zone, writing to a "Frau Ulla Schulz" in the Western sector of Berlin. The East Zone caption under the Gate reads: (in translation) "Berlin Was, Is and Will again Be the Capital of all Germany."

Under this rubber-stamped caption, with a red handstamp, the West Zone German Postal authorities have punched this added thought: ". . aber nicht unter kommunistischer Diktatur!"—". but not under Communist dictatorship!"

this story is told in its stamps. During the height of the infla-tion period, from 1922 to 1923, about one hundred and twentyfive different values came use, ranging from the 5pf. to astounding sum of fifty billion marks, valued in our currency at $11,900,000,000! Then the bubble burst!

Soon afterwards one would find these stamps of the inflation period in cheap packets contain-ing large blocks and even sheets of them. Today the interested collector must search a little more diligently to complete a collection of this period mint, and scratch deeper than that to find them postally used.

Following the inflation period, Germany again returned to her policy of keeping her postal issues in a fairly low monetary class, so their issues are within the reach of the modest collector. This, coupled with the beautiful workmanship, and the fascinating history depicted on their stamps, has all contributed to the popularity of this country.

Out of this unrest rose the man who was destined to again plunge the world into another great war—Adolph Hitler! The Third Reich took its place in history in 1933, and the issues of this period show the rise of Naziism and the events leading to World War II, and another page of history shows in the month or period during which the various stamps of a set were

Another related feature, very im-

Another related feature, very important to the students of cancellations and postal history, is that German catalogs usually list the period of validity of an issue.

European stamps, unlike U. S. issues, seldom are valid as postage more than a few years, often for much less time, as they are frequently "demonetized", especially following each substantial change in valuation of currency of the country due to periods of economic stress such as wars, inflation, deflation, etc.

Another feature typical of Another feature typical of prominent German catalogs, and lacking in Scott, is the listing of the names of engravers, designers, and artists involved in preparing the stamps. It may be that Scott occasionally mentions these, but if so, we have yet to see such listing therein.

Yet another feature concerning which we must grant preference to most German catalogs is in regard to the explanatory nota-tions, drawings and "blown-up" photos accompanying catalog list-ings. In this respect we are gen-erally pleased with Scott so far really pleased with Scott so far as it goes, but the German cata-logs usually go much further, often giving a highly-detailed ac-count of various issues. As mentioned, Kricheldorf is outstanding in this respect.

Also, German catalogers seem to take a more realistic attitude in preparing their compilations. For example, the pricings are considerably nearer the actual market value of the stamps listed than are those of Scott.

heavy watermark which this sheet bears, and which, being pressed thinner than the remainder of the mahogany logs down a river.

sheet, is apparently more susceptible to destruction.

Following through with realism, Michel in listing the Ostropa sheet now adds the notation that the prices quoted are for "well-preserved items, and for unused specimens WITHOUT gum."

Even the well known Swiss preserved items, and for unused specimens WITHOUT gum."

Even the well known Swiss catalog, Zumstein, follows its listing of the Ostropa sheet with the notation that "prices for unused items are for those either with OR WITHOUT gum!"

Remarkably few American collections contain copies of the Hindenburg airmails with the paper in white and unblemished condition. And DON'T let anyone tell you that the paper of these stamps was originally brown in color; there are indeed much whiter papers than that on which the Hindenburgs were printed, but withal the original color of the paper of these stamps was WHITE and NOT brown.

However, due to the quality of the gum very few "white paper" copies are now in existence, so don't be too finicky if a dealer offers you stamps which are somewhat brownish in color, as if the gum is immediately removed no further deterioration will take place, and you will by no means be unique among collectors lacking these items with paper of pristine whiteness. In fact you may count yourself among the great majority if your Hindenburgs are brownish.

We have now mentioned a number (but by no means all) of the burgs are brownish.

We have now mentioned a number (but by no means all) of the points on which German catalogs differ to their advantage (in our opinion, at least) as compared with Scott. Now let us mention certain points in which they differ from Scott in a manner which often proves confusing to the collector who is grounded only in the cataloguing system based on Scott's. Scott's.

In this respect, one should first understand that most German (and European) catalogs base their system on listing the major issues in Airportion of stamp issues in CHRONOLOGICAL order. Air-mails and semipostals are not divided into separate categories resulting in special sections under sub-titles. Where Scott generally lists sets where Scott generally lists sets of a similar type or design together, German catalogs usually scatter such sets throughout the catalog in the order of their ACTUAL CHRONOLOGICAL AP-

UAL CHRONOLOGICAL AP-PEARANCE.
The Hindrichs catalog is an exception in this particular. It may be noticed that, to a small degree, Scott does follow this system, as it often lists new issues chrono-logically for a year or so, some-times for years, and then later moves them back to a listing of stamps similar in design or pur-nose. In the majority of such cases however, Scott follows the color description of the stamp with the year date given in parentheses, i.e., "6 pfg, green (32). Some collectors consider the chronological order a distinct disadvantage as compared to the "categorical" order due to the fact that more pose order, due to the fact that more time is usually required to locate an item in the chronological or-der unless the date of issue is previously known.

However the German catalogs

However the German catalogs always place an eye-catching symbol, such as airplane or large black dot, before each airmail listing; other categories are also marked by similarly prominent symbols. Semipostals are not generally considered separately than manner by European catain any manner by European cata-

Perhaps the most indisputable point of superiority that Scott can claim over European catalogs in general is the fact that its il-lustrations are not only usually larger but also are quite often TOPICALS which it is coated.

Most notable of these issues are the Ostropa sheet (Scott B68) and the two Hindenburg airmails (Scott C57-58). Deterioration of these items is extremely rapid if the gum is not removed, particularly if exposed to continuous high humidity.

The paper first begins to turn brown, becoming darker and darker and ever more brittle, until finally the paper tears and shatters at the touch. We have seen a case of the Ostropa sheet where the acidic quality of the gum has "eaten" entirely through the heavy watermark which this sheet bears, and which, being pressed

KENYA - UGANDA. ROYAL VISIT. These stamps were first placed on sale on the day that the placed on sale on the day that the (then) Princess Elizabeth arrived and were to remain on sale for only nine days when the Princess was supposed to leave Kenya. This is probably the shortest planned sales period, except for items for sale and use on one special day only.

From a source that has always been absolutely correct. I am advised that only 125,000 of these sets were prepared and sold. This would probably have been enough to supply the proposal demand. would probably have been enough to supply the normal demand—BUT—the sudden death of King George VI placed this set in the unusual position of being the last of the King George stamps issued during his lifetime, and first of the Queen Elizabeth stamps. The demand by collectors has been so large that very few dealers are now able to supply same.
